POINTS AND AUTHORITIES
LEGAL ARGUMENT

When determining physical custody of a child, the sole consideration of the court is the best interest of the minor child. In determining the best interest of the child, the court shall consider: a) The wishes of the child if the child is of sufficient age and capacity to form an intelligent preference as to his or her custody; b) Any nomination of a guardian for the child by a parent; c) Which parent is more likely to allow the child to have frequent associations and a continuing relationship with the noncustodial parent; d) The level of conflict between the parents; e) The ability of the parents to cooperate to meet the needs of the child; f) The mental and physical health of the parents; g) The physical, developmental and emotional needs of the child; h) The nature of the relationship of the child with each parent; i) The ability of the child to maintain a relationship with any sibling; j) Any history of parental abuse or neglect of the child or a sibling of the child; k) Whether either parent or any other person seeking custody has engaged in an act of domestic violence against the child, a parent of the child or any other person residing with the child; and l) Whether either parent or any other person seeking custody has committed any act of abduction against the child or any other child. NRS 125C.0035.

There is a presumption that joint physical custody and joint legal custody would be in the best interest of the child if: 1) the parents have so agreed; or 2) a parent has demonstrated, or attempted to demonstrate but had his or her efforts frustrated by the other parent, an intent to establish a meaningful relationship with the child. NRS 125C.0025. A court may award one parent primary physical custody if it determines that joint physical custody is not in the best interest of the child. NRS 125C.003.

The court shall also determine child support under NRS 125B.080 and/or in accordance with the guidelines established by the Administrator of the Division of Welfare and Supportive Services pursuant to NRS 425.620.

Child Support Worksheet

① The Other Parent's Information

How much money does the other parent make every month? (Estimate if you do not know. A GMI worksheet is attached if you need help.)

Figure out the other parent's gross monthly income. This includes money received from employment, social security, unemployment, pension/retirement, interest/investments, etc. It does not include SSI, SNAP, TANF, cash benefits from the county, or child support received.

I believe the other parent makes $ 20.00 hr. ? per month (this is "Gross Monthly Income")

If this number is more than $6000, STOP. This worksheet will not apply.*

Visit nvchildsupportguidelinescalculator.azurewebsites.net/getobligation.aspx to find the appropriate amount.

Determine what the other parent's child support obligation would be:

Gross Monthly Income (from above) $ 20.00 hr. ? X

.16 (for 1 child)
.22 (for 2 children)
.26 (for 3 children)
